

Join us in Nunavut

Dr. Aaron Johnston loves working in Nunavut.

Welcome to Baffin Island! The work here is challenging, and the scope of practice is broad, but with a supportive group of colleagues, it's also very rewarding.

For me, working here is a great opportunity to live in an exotic landscape and learn about a new culture, all within the borders of Canada. Iqaluit is a fun city with friendly people from all over Canada. The Arctic is Canada's last frontier, and it's definitely worth exploring!
